Century Savings Bank Earns Community Service Award from NJ Bankers Association

VINELAND, NJ – December 21, 2020 – Century Savings Bank has been awarded the New Jersey Bankers Association Community Service Award in recognition of their charitable support and volunteer efforts benefitting New Jersey communities throughout the year. The award is part of a statewide program that acknowledges outstanding community work by its member banks. This is the sixth time in the last ten years that the bank has received this distinguished honor.

In accepting the award, David J. Hemple, CEO of Century Savings Bank noted, “As a true community bank, we pride ourselves in giving back to the communities we serve. Our corporate culture encourages donations, employee volunteerism and community responsibility. Despite a challenging economy, it remains our initiative to proactively support local, civic and charitable causes that promote home ownership, economic development, financial literacy and local business prosperity.”

Century Savings Bank executives and officers regularly serve on boards of local hospitals, charities, chambers of commerce, civic clubs and other community organizations.

“Together, our senior management, officers and staff work hand-in-hand as community advocates,” remarked Deborah Holman, Vice President and Director of Marketing. “It is our belief that viable, sustainable communities are created when businesses work closely with strong non-profit partners to address critical community needs. By investing in our neighborhoods, we are investing in each other.”
