Century Savings Bank Receives Community Service Award from NJ Bankers Association

VINELAND, NJ (June 10, 2016) – Century Savings Bank has been awarded the New Jersey Bankers Association Community Service Award in recognition of their charitable support and volunteer effort benefitting New Jersey communities throughout the year. The award is part of a statewide program that recognizes outstanding community work by its member banks.

In accepting the award, David J Hemple, President and CEO of Century Savings Bank noted, “As a true community bank, we pride ourselves in giving back to the communities we serve. Our corporate culture encourages donations, employee volunteerism and community responsibility. Despite a challenging economy, it remains our initiative to proactively support local, civic and charitable causes that encourage home ownership, economic development, financial literacy and local business prosperity.”

Century Savings Bank executives and officers regularly serve on boards of local hospitals, schools and charities, chambers of commerce, rotary clubs and other community service organizations.

“Together our senior management, managers and staff work hand-in-hand as community advocates,” remarked Deborah Holman, Vice President and Director of Marketing. “It is our belief that viable, sustainable communities are created when businesses work closely with strong non-profit partners to address critical community needs. By investing in our neighborhoods, we are investing in each other.”
